A surging mass, pushing, crowding,
Walking, pulling, turning,
Moving; up and down stairways,
Through the halls of noise,
Laughter, words, and confusion.
Football captains, collegiates, queens,
Greasers, teachers, gymleaders,
Presidents, hippies, band members, and
People, with a thousand personalities
Merged into only one.
Classrooms of different, exciting faces, and Unfamiliar new teachers.
Someone new next to you,
Someone to walk with,
Someone to talk to,
An individual,
A friend.

Activities stretch on and on; cheering for
Your team, playing on the team,
Marching in the band, being a cheerleader,
Putting up campaign signs, and taking them down;
Getting ready for a dance,
Washing cars at the class car wash,
The Prom.
Endless, tiring, eternal homework,
Classes to rush to,
A lunch line to stand in;
Getting lost in the halls,
Working on a physics experiment,
Having a private joke,
Planning for college,
Painting a picture,
Graduation,
Being involved.

The sprawling, bulging building with its innumerable Turns and hallways, endless stairs going
Up and down, up and down;
Hot gym; The brisk happy stadium and the musty
Rooters' buses, dark and loud.
The impersonal office of cold, gray steel;
The crowded cafeteria, the tunnel, lockers,
Rooms, ticket booths, auditorium
Study halls, twists and turns all connected.
Confusion.
Classrooms of paper and chalk,
An accepted lunch seat,
A familiar hall,
Your own locker.

A.F.S. Brings Part of Chile to Maple Heights

Lucy and Lana relax at home, while Lucy strums her guitar.

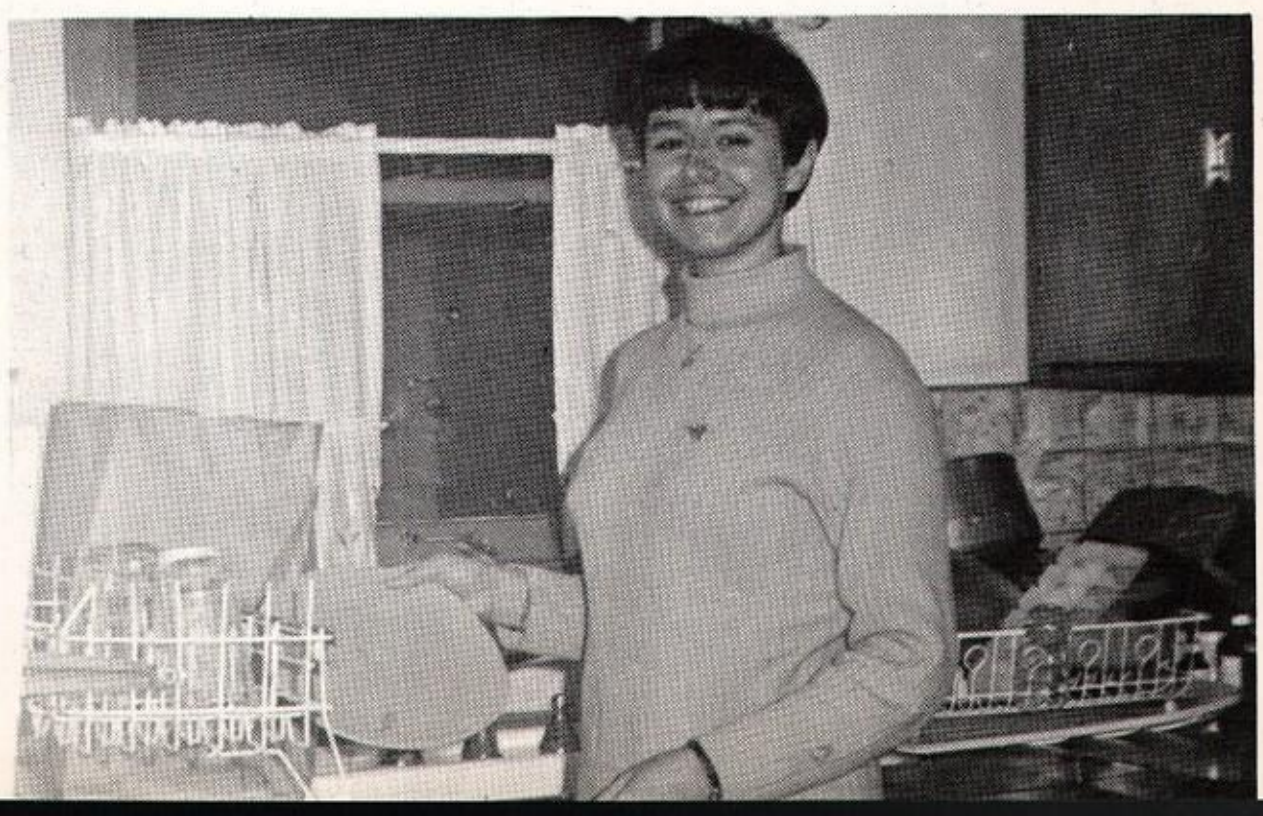
The American Field Service program sent Maple Heights High an exciting, mini-skirted girl from Vina del Mar, Chile. Lucia Isabel Cangas Leon, "Lucy", spent an active year with the Galbreaths, her American host family. Lana, her American sister spent the previous summer in Tehran, Iran, also in connection with the A.F.S. program. Lucy was enthusiastic about almost everything during her stay, but she especially loved basketball, which was her favorite sport. She also tried skiing with the ski club at the high school, which was a new experience. With her ready smile Lucy was a welcome and common sight around Maple Heights this past year.

Working hard, Lucy concentrates on her typing, which is one of her favorite courses.

Lucy enjoys a plateful of her favorite American food, cheese cake.

Lucy discovers that study is an important part of a Maple student's life.

Pitching in after dinner, Lucy helps to wash dishes.



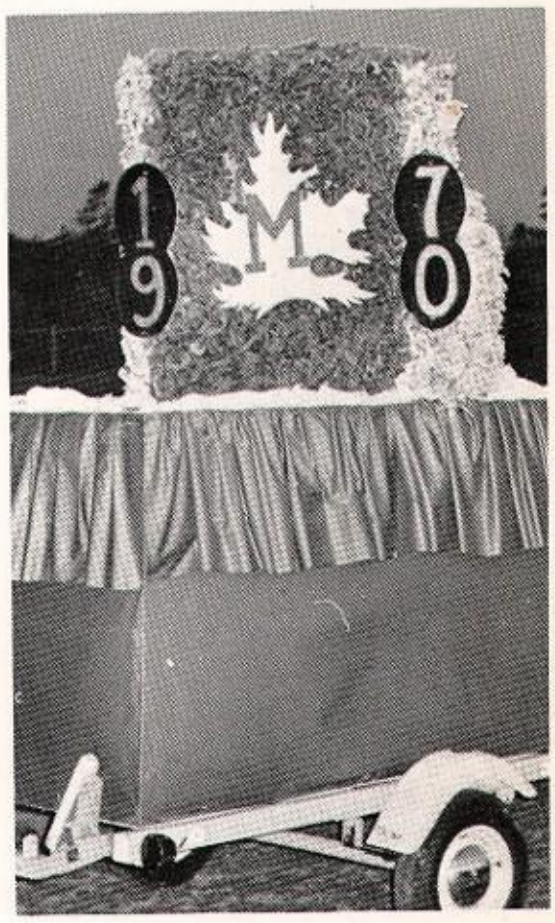
Homecoming Week Rouses Maple Spirit

Our school spirit week, held the week before the Midpark homecoming football game, was highlighted by a lively queen campaign along with various spirit-showing contests. Thursday night before the game was the night of the parade, the pep rally at Stafford Stadium, and the bonfire. The parade began at the high school. There were five floats which were also displayed at the game, and numerous decorated cars. Twirling and cheerleading contests were held at the pep rally, which dissolved when the bonfire was lit on the practice field. The pep band was present throughout the busy evening. The next day a rousing pep assembly was held during school. That night at the game Kathy Cuttaia was crowned Homecoming queen. Finally, on Saturday night, the Homecoming dance, featuring the Sensations, wrapped up a good week for Maple fans.

Led by the majorettes, the pep band does a little fancy stepping to "Tea for Two."

The cheerleaders, majorettes and the pep band combine to entertain the faaantastic crowd.

Art Club works frantically to finish its float, entitled "Paint Maple a Victory."



A 1970 class ring topped the float constructed by the Senior Class.

A blazing bonfire helped to heat Maple spirit to a feverish pitch.

1969-1970 HOMECOMING QUEEN AND COURT: Karen Skunta, Pat Chaye, Queen Kathy Cuttaia, Laura Carcione, and Debra Foster.

October 10 marked one of the highlights of the football season—the 1969-70 Homecoming weekend.

Activities began on Thursday evening with a big parade and pep rally which featured floats representing the three classes, Student Council and Art Club. Music for the occasion was provided by a pep band from the Maple Heights High Marching Band. Spectators along the route were introduced to the queen candidates. The candidates for queen were Laura Carcione, Pat Chaye, Kathy Cuttaia, Deb Foster and Karen Skunta.

During the half-time show of the Midpark football game that Friday, a radiant Miss Kathy Cuttaia, escorted by Kevin Flanagan, was crowned 1969-70 Homecoming Queen.

Saturday evening, a large crowd enjoyed dancing to the sound of the Sensations as a finale to a great weekend.

Radiant with joy, Kathy Cuttaia is crowned Maple's Homecoming Queen.

A large, glittering crown gave a regal touch to the beautiful decorations.

Kathy and her escort, Kevin Flanagan, begin the Queen's Dance.

Cheerleaders Fire Spirit in Sports

Jeani, Whit, and Laurie put enthusiasm into chants during exciting game.

A summer of hard work and practice prepared the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders for the sports year of 1969-70. Creativity was the motto as a variety of new cheers and chants were added to their reportoire. With the assistance of Pep Club, the girls let the Maple teams know that they were behind them 100%. Most students do not realize the amount of effort that the cheerleaders put into their work. Weekdays after school they can be seen practicing in the recreation room. They must think up new cheers as the season progresses to keep the fans interested in cheering. The cheerleaders are called upon to "psyche up" the student body at the numerous pep assemblies. Hard work, physical stamina, good grades and sheer lung power make up the Maple cheerleader.

New techniques add variety to this year's cheers.

Band Meets New Challenges in Marching

The Maple Heights High School band successfully undertook and completed an ambitious marching season. Highlighted by a trip to a Browns game and a Bandorama, Mr. Stone's band this year received more attention than in recent years. They played in a combined show with the bands of Bedford and Garfield at the halftime of the Browns-Redskins game at the Cleveland Stadium. The Maple 96 also marched in a Bandorama at Nordonia and returned with a handsome trophy that has since been added to their growing collection.

After marching season, the band members returned to find Mr. Stone's wit as sharp as ever, as he sought to mold his musicians into a well-rehearsed concert band. Mr. Stone succeeded. The spring concert brought the band well-deserved acclaim.

Dances Add Festivities to Maple Life

Starting the dancing are these couples at the Semi-Formal "Geisha Bash".

A variety of dances played a major role in the social life of Maple '70. Early in the fall, Friendship Club sponsored an open mixer featuring the music of "The Night of the Following Day". Dances in honor of the homecoming and winter sports queens were held following the games. The annual Semi-Formal provided many special moments as did the romantic mood of "Through the Looking Glass," the Valentine's Day formal. With a theme from Alice-in-Wonderland, grinning Cheshire cats and sweetheart trees contributed to the scenery. The senior class' "Zodiac Happening" also gave a new look to the Maple gym. Colored lights, stars, and a fortuneteller helped create an air of mystery and fun.

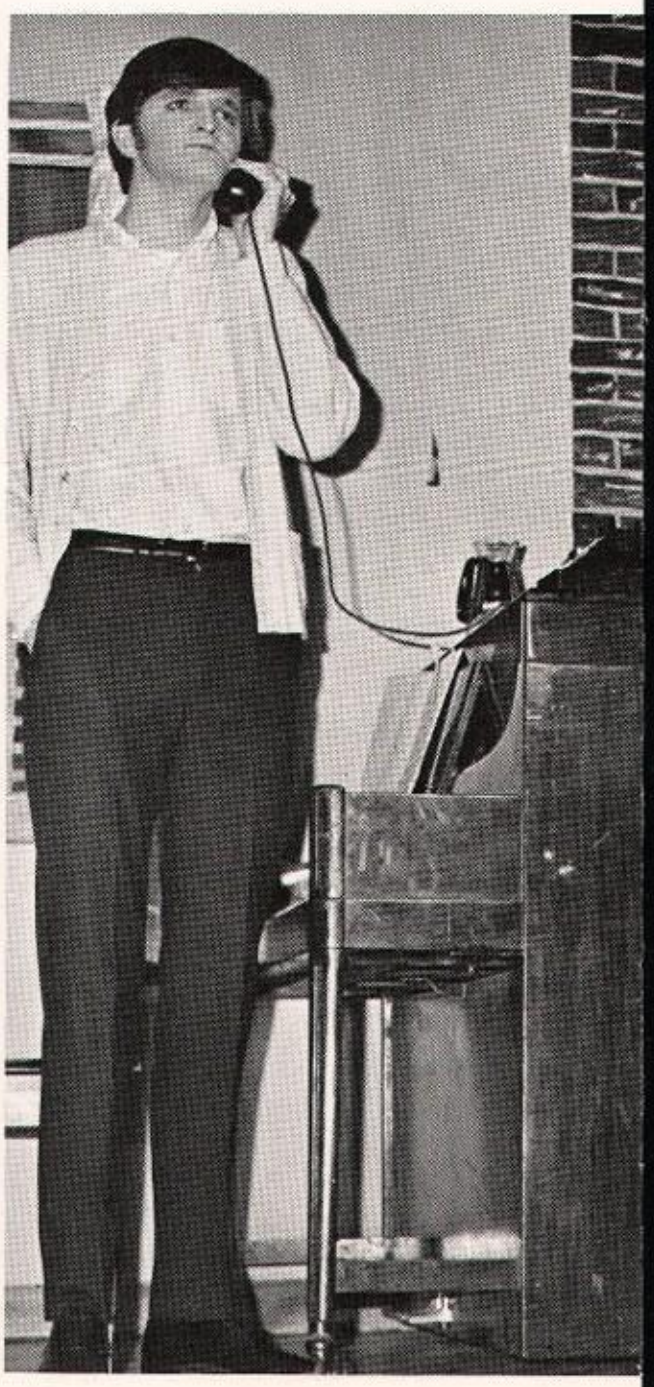
"Pillow Talk" Is Smashing Success

On November fourteenth and fifteenth the Dramatics Club presented their annual fall play, "Pillow Talk." The story concerns a young interior decorator, Jan Morrow, and an attractive but self-centered composer named Brad Allen. They become enemies as a result of problems over sharing a party line. Masquerading as a Texan named Rex Stetson, Brad meets Jan and she falls in love with him. Jonathon, Brad's best friend, is also in love with Jan, and hires a detective to discover who Rex is. The trouble created by this dual identity develops into some uproarious comedy before Jan and Brad are happily united.

Mark Fitzgibbons took the role of Brad Allen. The female lead was played by Pat Sheldon. Completing the triangle was Mark Kenny, as Jonathon. The play, directed by Mr. John Lioce, drew greater attendance than any previous play.

Brad (Mark Fitzgibbons), or is it Rex, finds his dual identity double trouble.
Jan (Pat Sheldon) finds that sharing a party line makes telling Brad off much easier.

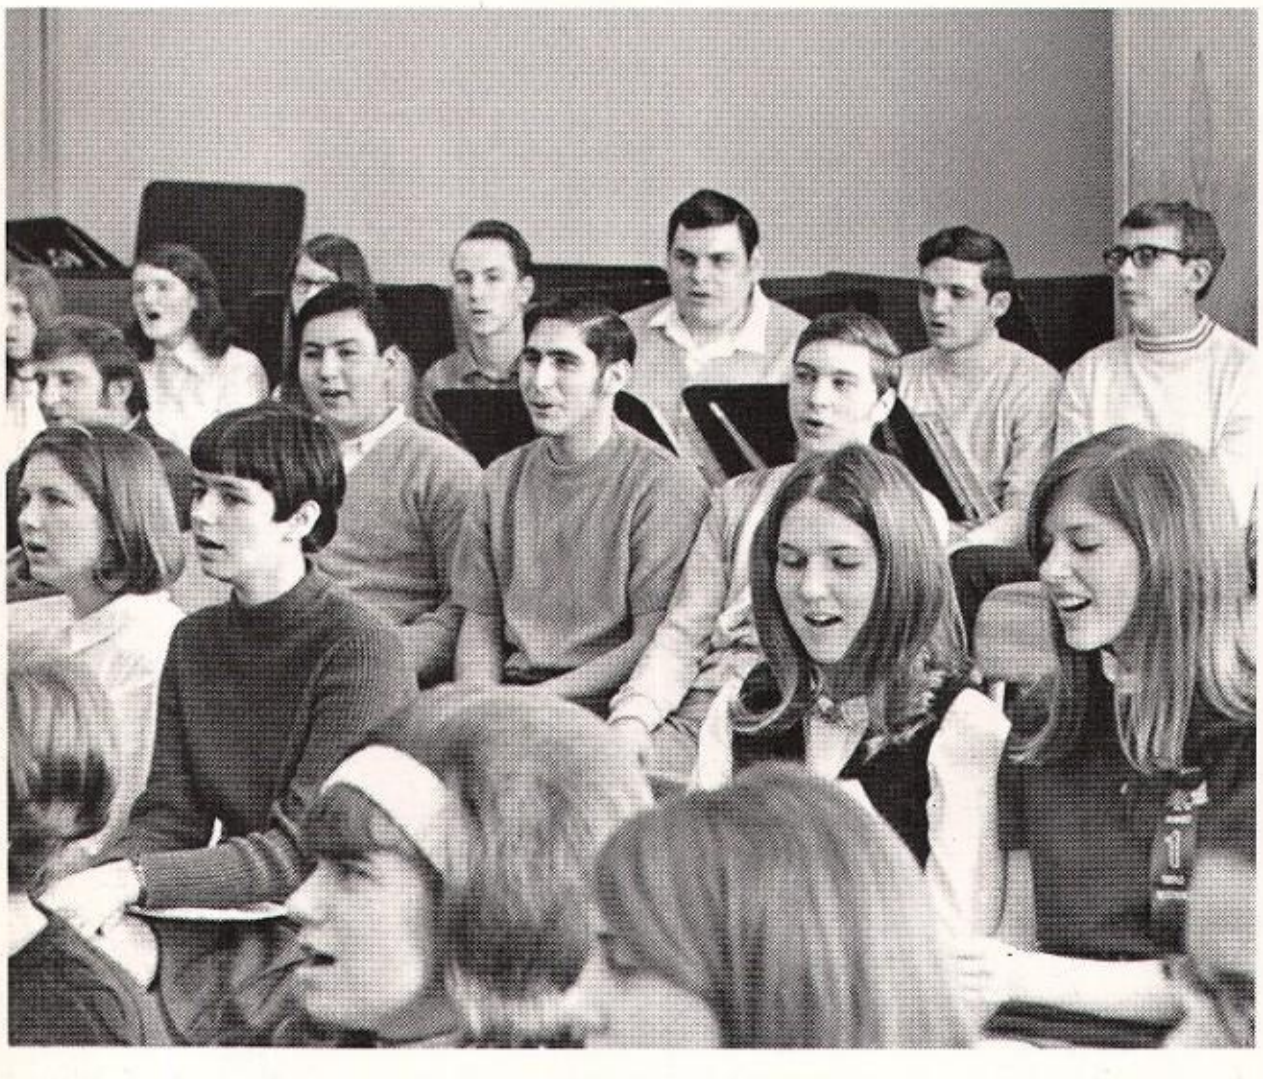


Johnathon (Mark Kenny) protests futilely as Brad carries Jan away.

Johnathon just won't take no for an answer.

The kitchen phone makes life much more interesting for Alma (Aggie Gorup), the inquisitive maid.

Varsity Choir Sings a Diversified Program



The choir rehearses for the big concert.

The Varsity Choir, under the able direction of Mr. John D. Stone provides MHHS with a fine musical organization. The choir held its annual Christmas concert in December which was highlighted with the bi-annual production of "The Night Before Christmas." The choir provides us with appropriate music for some of the all-school assemblies. Besides these activities the choir also travels to both Jr. Highs to perform for the students. In the spring the choir provides us with another fine concert.

Assemblies Brighten the Maple Year

Former football coach Ed Butler delivered the annual Thanksgiving address.

Numerous assemblies throughout the year gave students the opportunity to gain knowledge in a variety of fields, to build up school spirit, and to give recognition for achievements. Guest speakers included a congressman, a judge, a Cleveland Brown's football player, and a representative from the Greater Cleveland Council of World Affairs.

One of the most enjoyable programs of the year featured a folk group, "The 3-D's", who both entertained and spread a message of patriotism. Student Council was responsible for this and for the original holiday skits. The Varsity Choir also took part in the holiday festivities.

To boost school spirit, pep rallies, sports awards, and queen's assemblies were common events, providing an outlet to vent enthusiasm.

"The 3-D's" spread their word of patriotism and brotherly love.

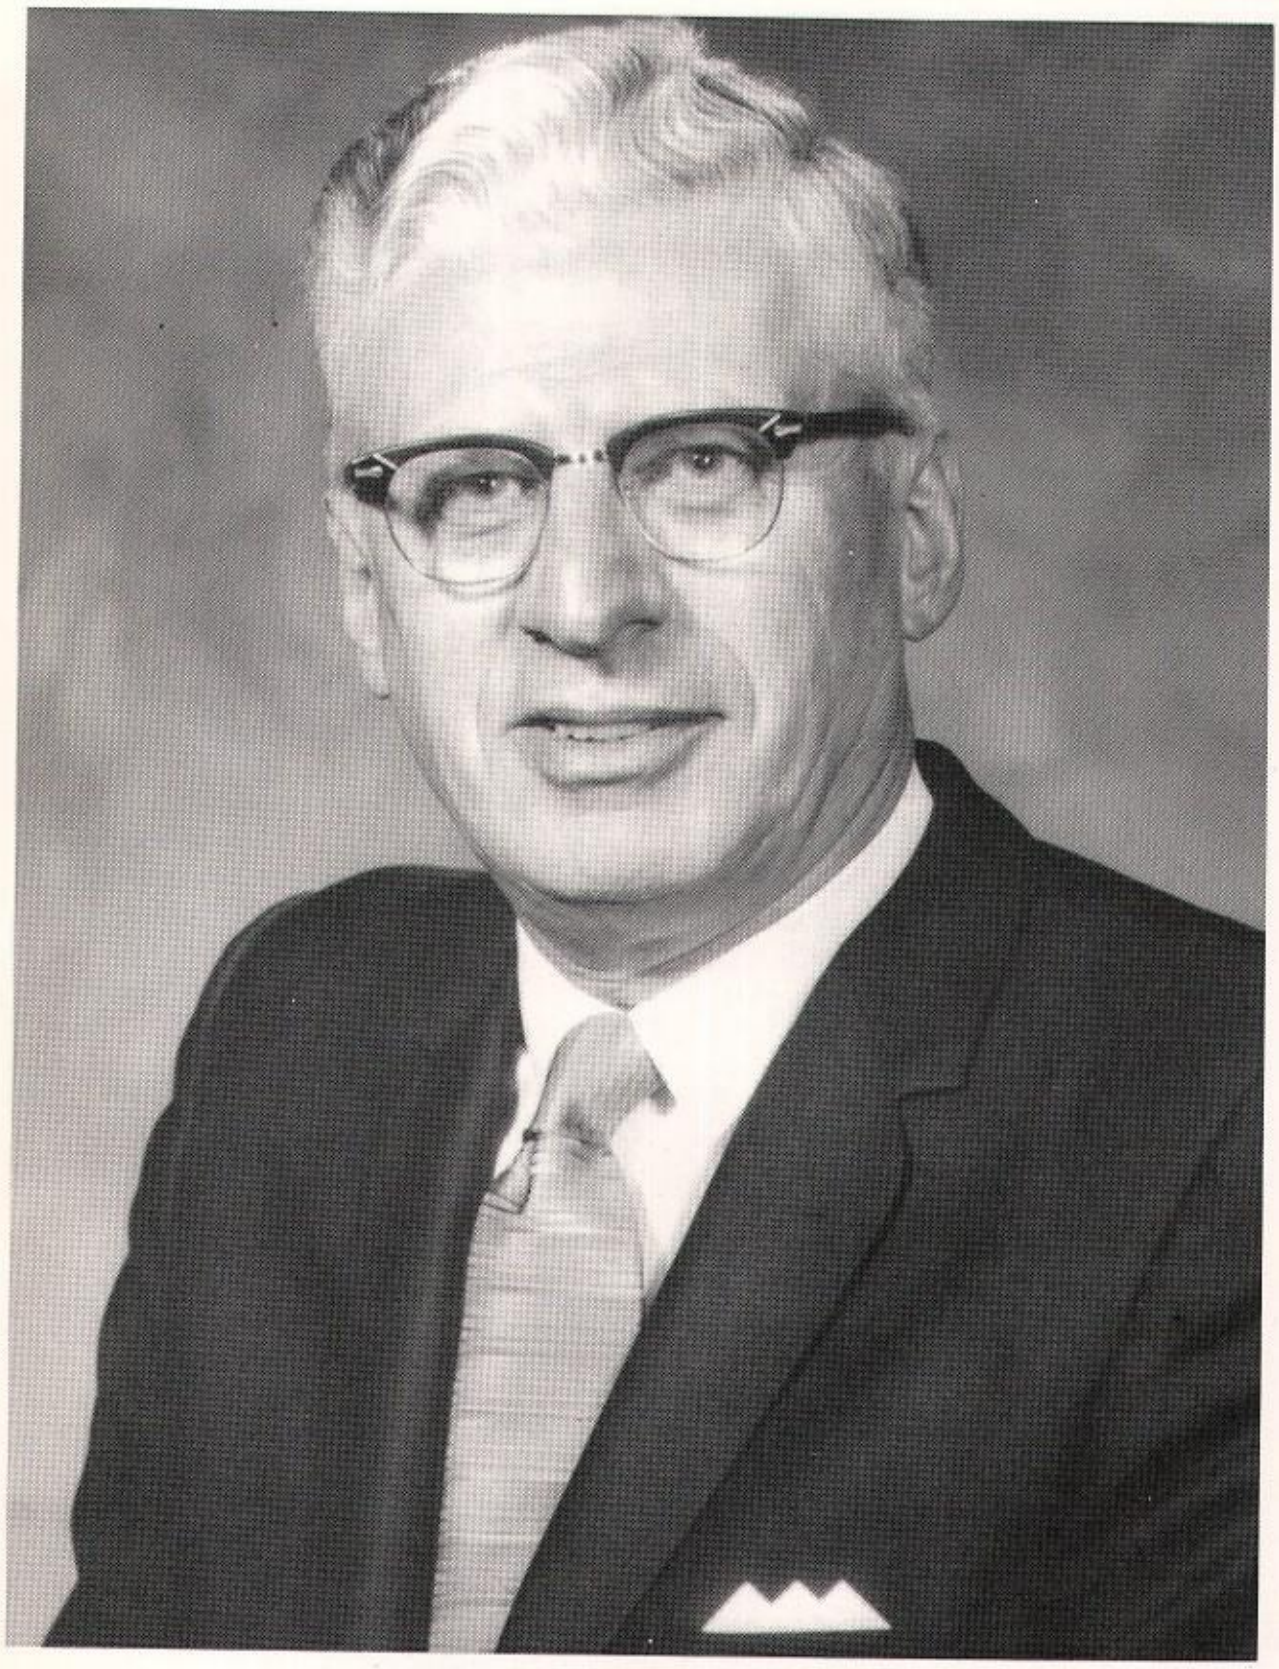
Letterman Kevin Flannagan awaits presentation.

The weekend of January 30, 1970, proved to be full of activity and excitement for Maple students. Winter Sports festivities began with the queen elections taking place in homeroom Friday. At the half-time of the basketball game against Mayfield, the lovely candidates were introduced. Surrounded by a court made up of Sue Davidson, Whitney Fraier, Jean Fudella, and Virginia Hollenberg, an excited Darlene Peskar was crowned 1970 Winter Sports Queen. She was honored at a dance following the game. Saturday night closed the weekend with a wrestling meet against Willoughby South which was attended by the queen and her court. The high points of the winter activities, these events left many pleasant memories for one and all.

Queen candidates anxiously await half-time announcement of the 1970 Winter Sports Queen and Court.

Harry Salisbury—a Life Dedicated to Maple



Mr. Harry Salisbury

Mr. Salisbury served as superintendent of the Maple Heights school system from 1959 until his death in January 1970. During his time in office the school system had grown and prospered. Enrollment increased, a second junior high was built, and additions to the high school were made. There were also improvements made where curriculum and standards are concerned.

Mr. Salisbury graduated from Wilmington College with a Bachelor of Science degree in education. He was later awarded a full scholarship for his Masters degree in Science at Haverford College. He received his Masters degree in administration from Western Reserve University. He had been currently working toward his doctoral degree at Case Western Reserve.

He was a teacher of physical and social sciences, and acted as assistant superintendent in Lorain County. He had also been principal of the Bay Village High School. In 1955 Mr. Salisbury was appointed the first assistant superintendent of Maple Heights schools.

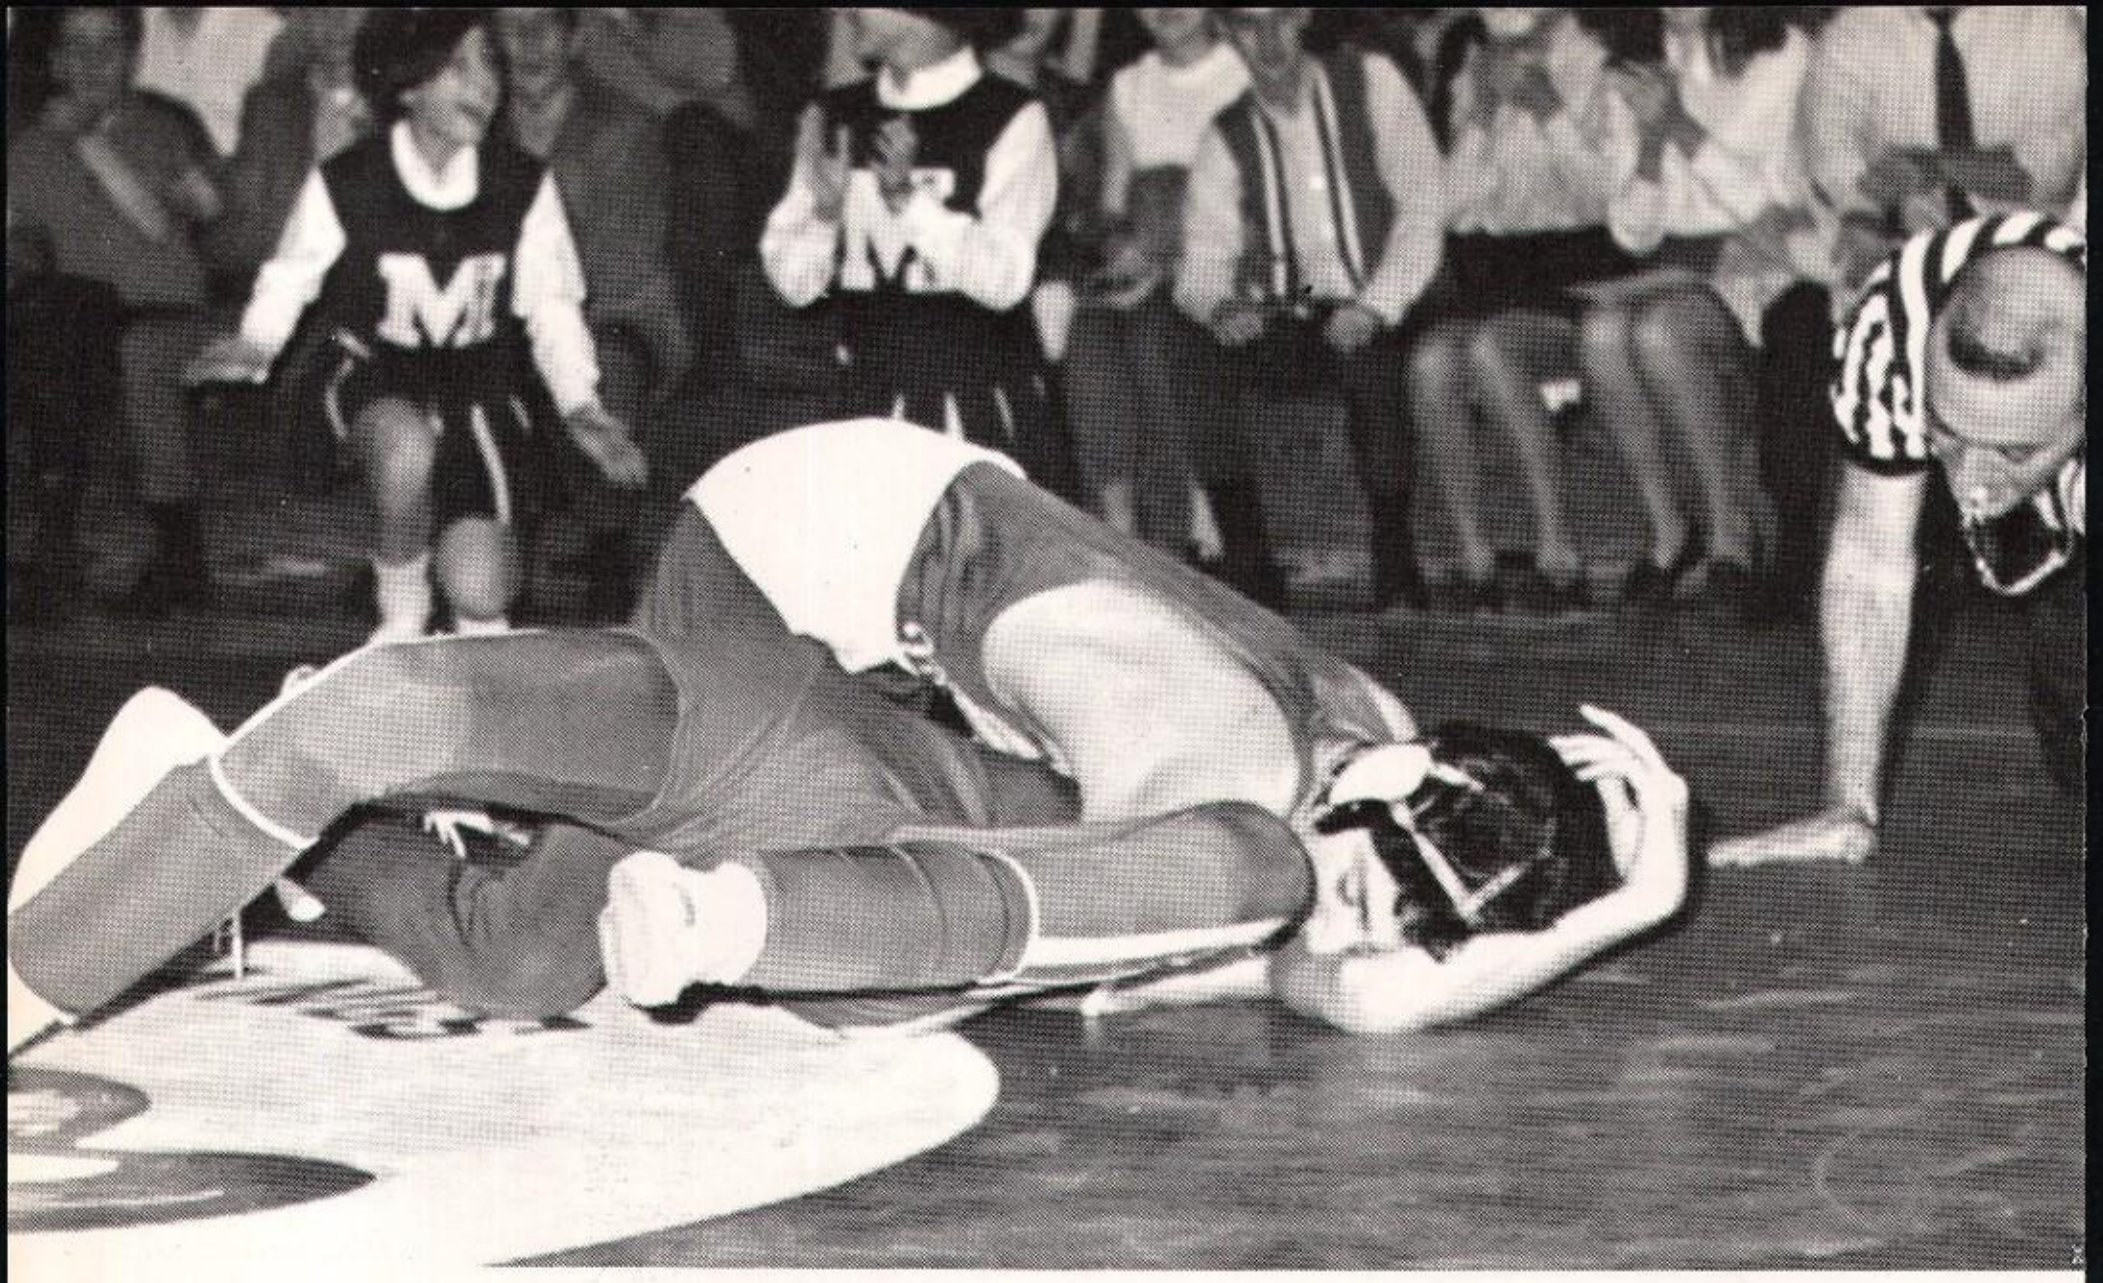
He was a charter member and president of the Western Reserve chapter of the Phi Delta Kappa honorary fraternity. He was also a member of the American Association of School Administrators, the National Education Association, the Ohio Education Association, the Ohio Association of School Administrators, and the Cuyahoga County Superintendents Association.

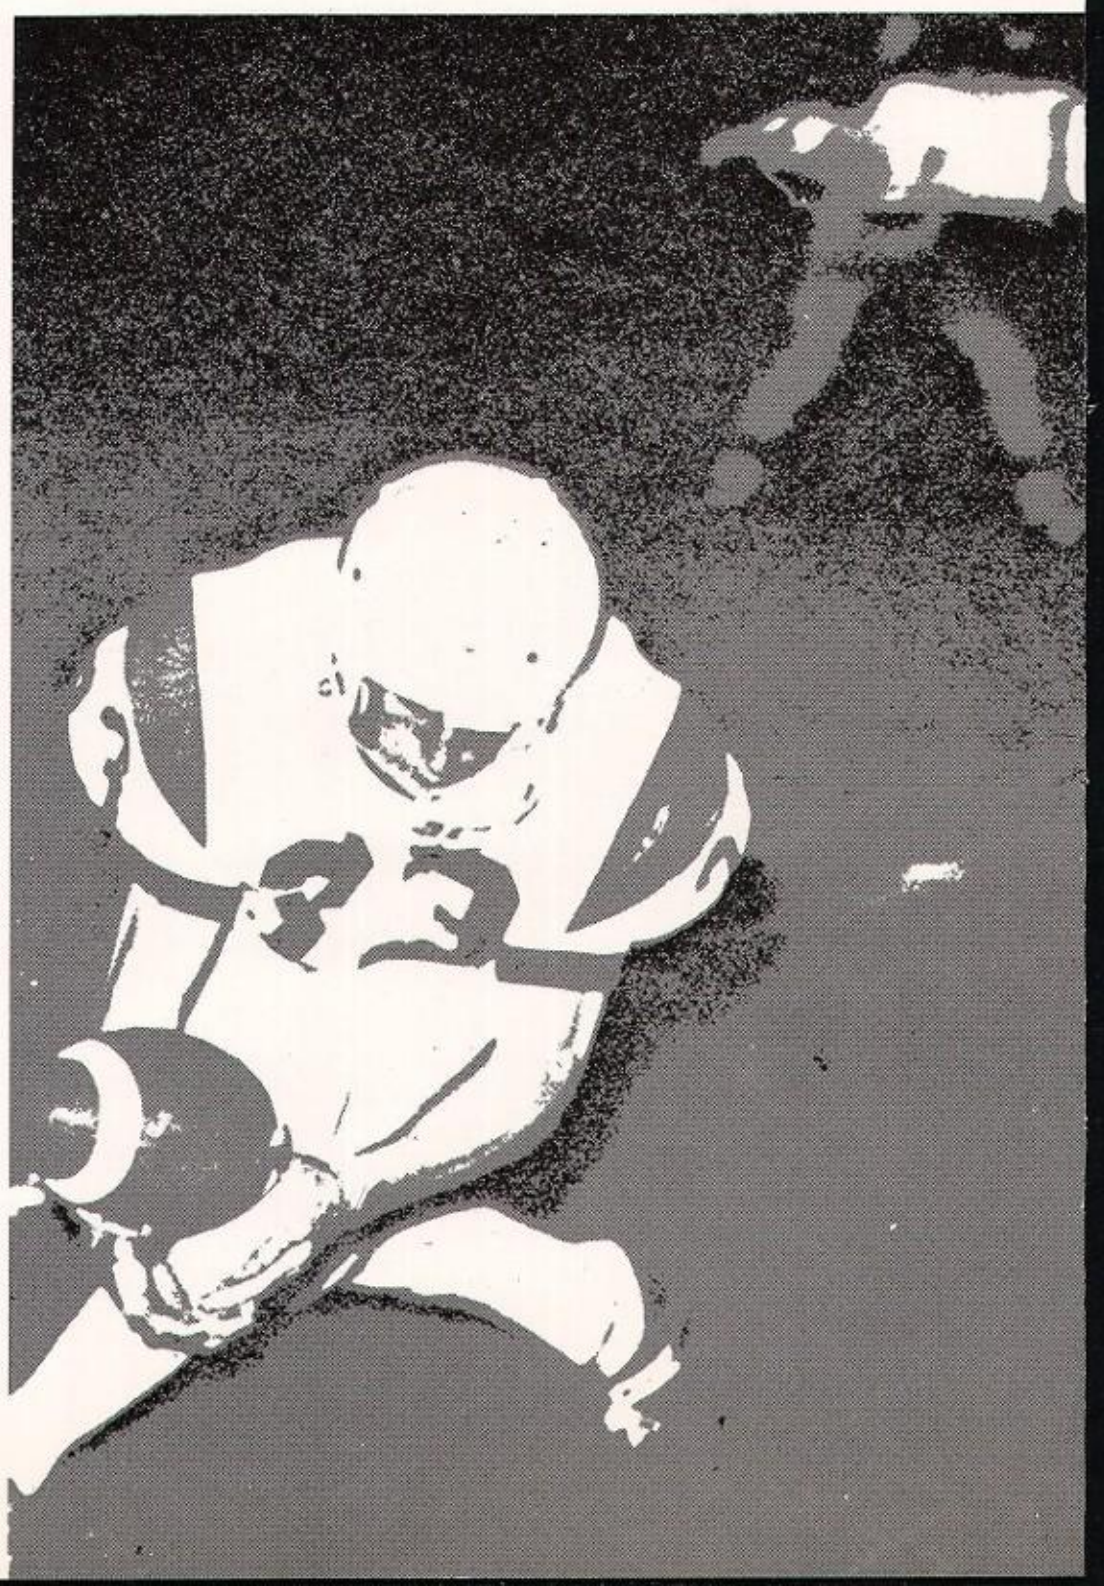
Mr. William Flanagan, president of the Board of Education, reflected on the passing of the superintendent:

"A superintendent today is no longer simply an administrator of education. He is a salesman, he is a public relations man, he is a negotiator, he is a father-confessor, and he is a leader. Mr. Salisbury was all of these—this is the mark of a man."

Throughout his years in Maple Heights, Mr. Salisbury was concerned with education.

Mr. Salisbury successfully coordinated the efforts of the School Board and the office of the Superintendent.





SPORTS

Collier Leads Team Through Tough Course

Kevin Flanagan outruns his opponent.

The 69-70 season was a tough one for the Maple Heights cross country team. Under the direction of Coach Paul Collier, the harriers gained valuable experience running their difficult two-mile course. The end result was a season of four wins and four losses, and a tenth place in the district meet. The team also placed eighth in the Gilmour relays.

Kevin Flanagan led the runners by setting a new course record at the Mayfield meet. Kevin, this year's team captain, has been one of Maple's top runners for three years. Bob Thielman, another important runner, was Maple's second man, and proved valuable in many meets. Steve Giannamore, a junior, also ran quite well, and will be back next year to lead the team. The rest of the team made a valiant effort to overcome the problems presented by this challenging sport.

Bedford

Although the Mustangs were not very successful this season, they worked diligently and were able to register two big wins. Their one point margin of victory over Bedford stood out in everyone's mind as a thriller all the way. Added to a surprisingly large success against South High and some other valiant efforts on the field, the Mustangs tried their best to provide an exciting season for many enthusiastic fans.

Outstanding juniors and seniors formed the nucleus of the team with Tom Sirna and Wayne Kriynovich taking honors as most-improved players.

J.V. Team Chalks Up Five Victories

At ten o'clock every Saturday morning the tenth grade football squad took to the field and represented Maple in the best possible way—with one hundred percent effort. Their season's record proved that they did their job well. Five rival teams were bowed by Maple's Might, junior varsity style. Their biggest win came early in the season with a 45-6 victory over the Flyers of Cleveland South. Cathedral Latin, Eastlake North, Willoughby South, and Bedford were bowed by the J.V. squad.

With a record such as this for the sophomores, the prospects for a winning team next year look good.

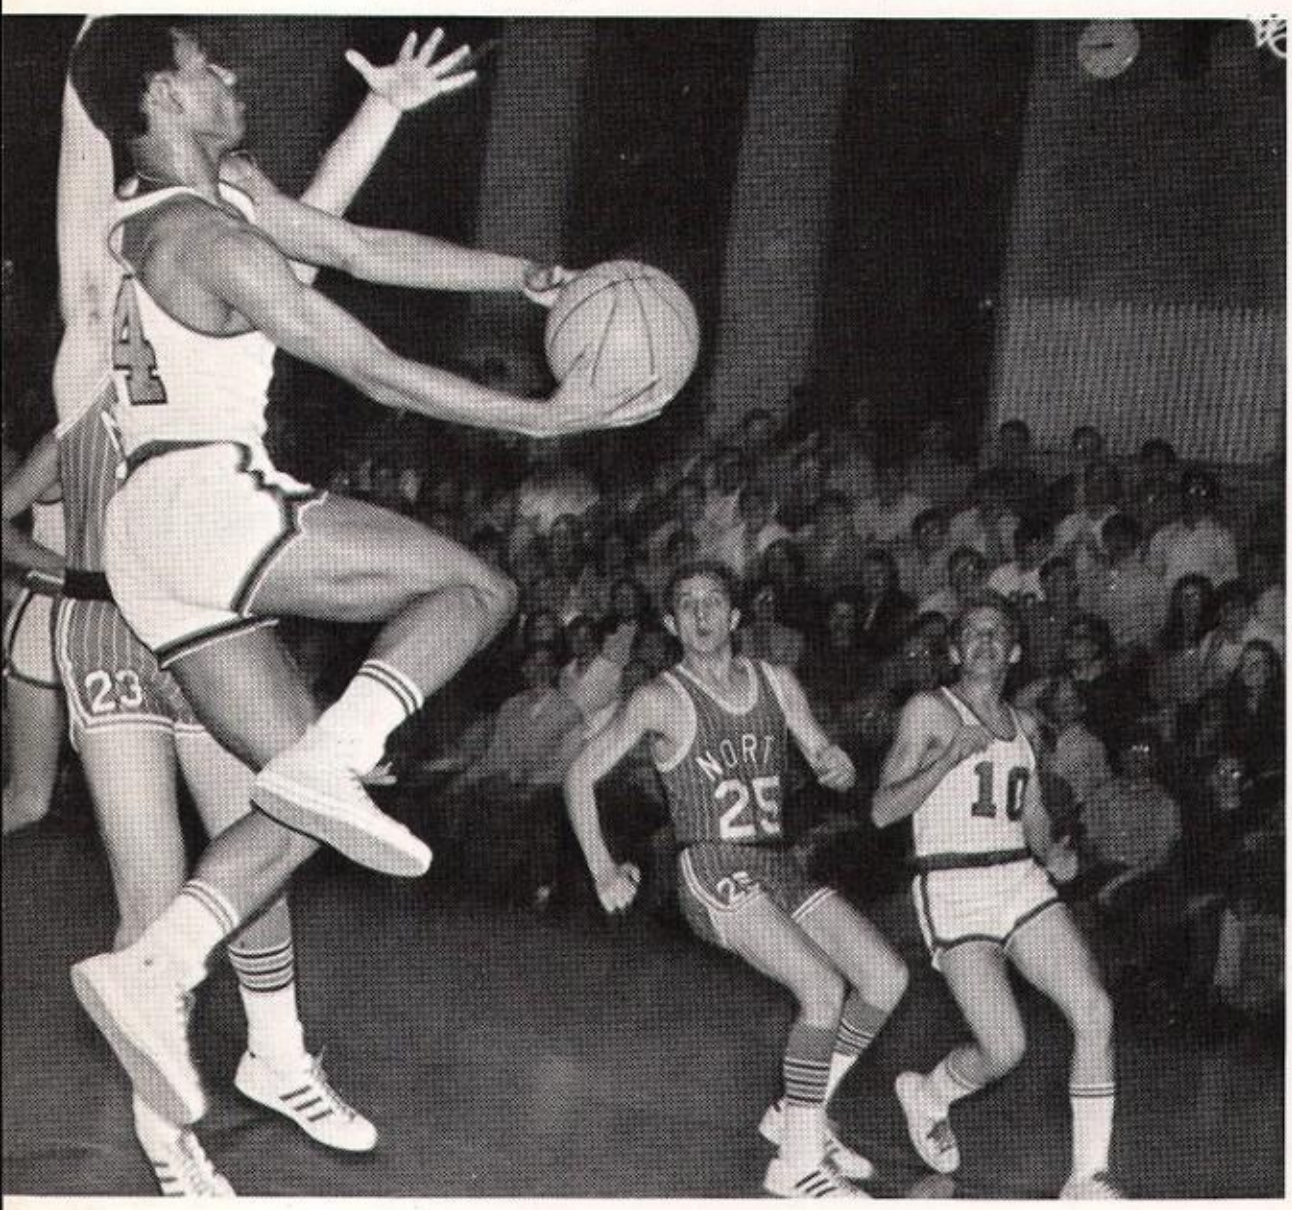
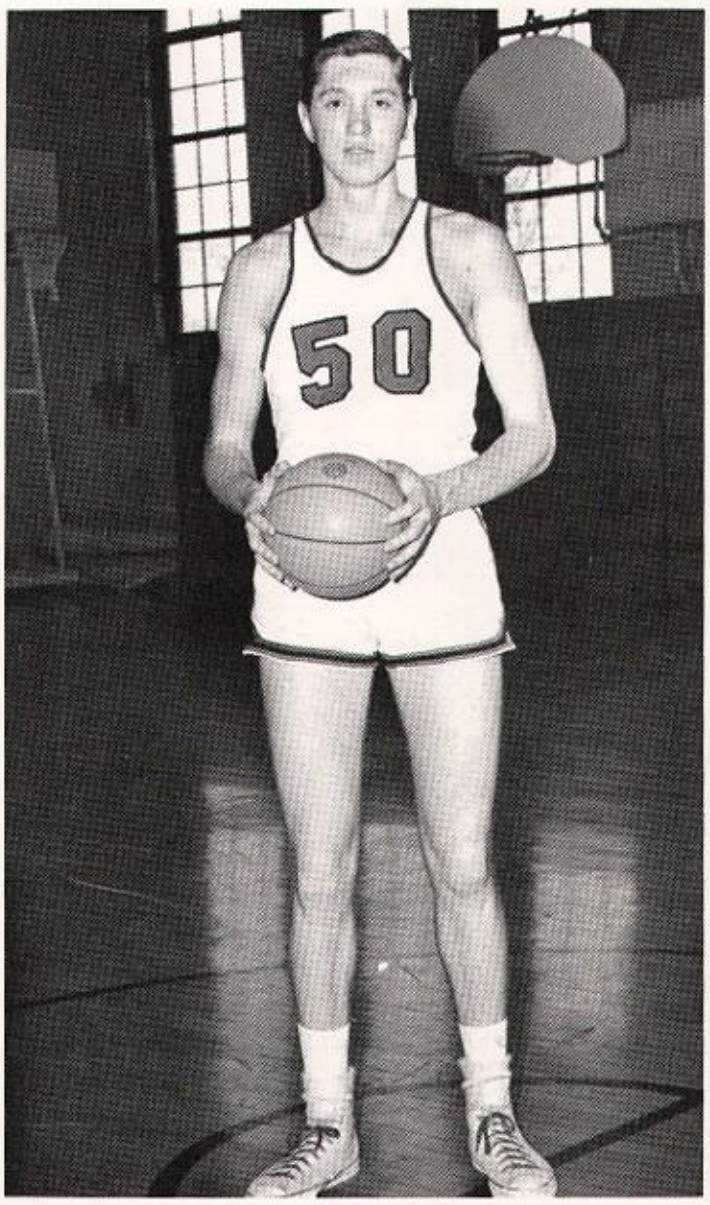
Exciting Wins Make Basketball '70 Special

Jim Toney's agility helps keep possession of the ball despite obstacles.





Len Kosmalski, Maple's talented center, scores a record fifty points.

Proving that hard work and determination pay, the Mustang cagers clinched their second GCC title in 1970. Thrilling victories over Berea and Willoughby South highlighted a successful season. With seniors Len Kosmalski, Tom Sirna, Jim Toney, Bob Kraus, Jeff Hruby, and Larry Schmidt forming the nucleus of the team, a Maple game always promised to be full of excitement.

School scoring records were set throughout the season with a ninety-two point Maple tally against Mentor and a fifty point individual scoring record for Len Kosmalski.

The excellent effort put forth by the Mustang cagers made the entire school and city proud of Maple Hts.

Encouraged by the success of the Varsity, the 1970 Junior Varsity cagers followed their example. Under the excellent guidance of Coach Luce, the J. V.'s polled their ever-increasing talents to produce an exciting, victorious season.

The J. V. basketball team won more games (14) than any other junior varsity team in Maple's history. This team shows a great deal of promise for the future. It is the hope of the coaching staff that this team will continue to improve their basketball skills and add further acclaim to themselves and their school.

Mustangs Make '70 Another Great Year

True to form, the 1970 Mustang grapplers continued in the winning ways which have been characteristic of Maple wrestling for many years. Opening the season with a big victory over Garfield, they advanced to a GCC crown while bringing their total of consecutive victories to seventy-seven.

In tournament action, they gained a sectional and district title for Maple, winning both by large margins. Seven wrestlers represented the Mustangs at states, including district champs Rick Kornell, Pat Milkovich, and Mike Fiala. The Mustangs returned from the state tournament with their sixth runner-up trophy and the 115 pound state champ—Gary Sorace.

Compiling seventy-nine consecutive victories, the Junior Varsity wrestlers gained valuable experience and added to Maple's fame. Several boys who began the year on the J.V. level advanced to varsity competition before the close of the season.

Their exciting matches ranged in score from a big thirty-eight point victory over Cleveland Hts. to a thrilling 24-22 decision against the Berea Braves.

In tournament competition, the sophomores won their invitational with sixty-nine points. The Mustangs also took the J.V. tournament at Nordonia with five first placers, Chuck Harger, Tim Beech, John Wagner, Stan Skowronski, and Steve Fink.

H. Don Scott Appointed Superintendent

The major operations of running a school are not seen by the every day student. This behind the scenes activity is performed by the competent and interested members of the Board of Education. This year we are fortunate to have Mr. Flanagan as our new School Board President. Working in co-operation with the administrative department, the members of the Maple Heights School Board kept our school system functioning properly. Under the direction of the new Superintendent of Schools, Mr. H. Don Scott, the administrative board has put forth great effort in updating Maple Hts. High School. Mr. Scott will direct our school's path through the seventies. Resolutions of problems and promises of a bright and fulfilling future for every student in our school system hope to materialize through his efficient planning.

Maple Gains New Principal, Asst. Prin.

The dawn of a new decade brought a refreshing change to Maple Heights High School. In September 1969, students returned to welcome a new principal, Morton J. Biel, to the not-so-new red brick school building. Enthusiasm and communication were the key words to Mr. Biel's immediate success. Emphasis was placed on the individual and his active participation in the student body. By utilizing Student Council as the instrument of communication between students and faculty, Mr. Biel was able to uproot problems and grant many reasonable and beneficial requests. Maple Spirit found its way into many dormant hearts as the result of the new principal's campaign of trust and respect for his student body numbering more than sixteen hundred. As our student body is increasing in size, so must our administration. This year Mr. Robert O'Brien joined Maple's Dean of Boys, Mr. William Cain in assisting the principal. Maple's Dean of Girls, Miss Ruth West also aids in resolving problems and offering guidance of a more feminine nature. Thus, the 1969-1970 school year proved to be a year of change and innovation which resulted in a productive year past and present.

Mr. Biel assumes new responsibilities as Maple principal.

Mr. Galbreath consults with Mr. Cain concerning the problem of a student.

Anyone that has a problem concerning career choice, selection of a college or employment has to look no farther than the guidance office for advice. The guidance department is staffed by five of the most competent people in the guidance field.

The counselors are responsible for setting up the schedule that suits each student. Those that are looking ahead to college usually consult a member of the staff before they apply for admission to a university. When the applications start arriving, the guidance office has the job of getting the grade transcripts completed and returned to the colleges. Though the volume of work was high, the department moved efficiently throughout the year to provide Maple Heights High with the best in guidance today.

Office and Library Provide Student Aid

Two of the busiest places in the school were the office and the library. Thanks to the excellent job performed by the three librarians, students found working on a term paper or researching a project just a little bit easier. Much behind-the-scenes work on an unending stream of newspapers, magazines, books, and textbooks kept both the librarians and library pages busy most of the year.

The secretaries also played a vital role in the smooth, efficient management of the high school office. Students needing help, information, or change received immediate assistance from these friendly people. Office pages provided help for students, teachers, and the secretaries alike. Through their work on the files, records, and other important paperwork, much needed information and aid was always found.

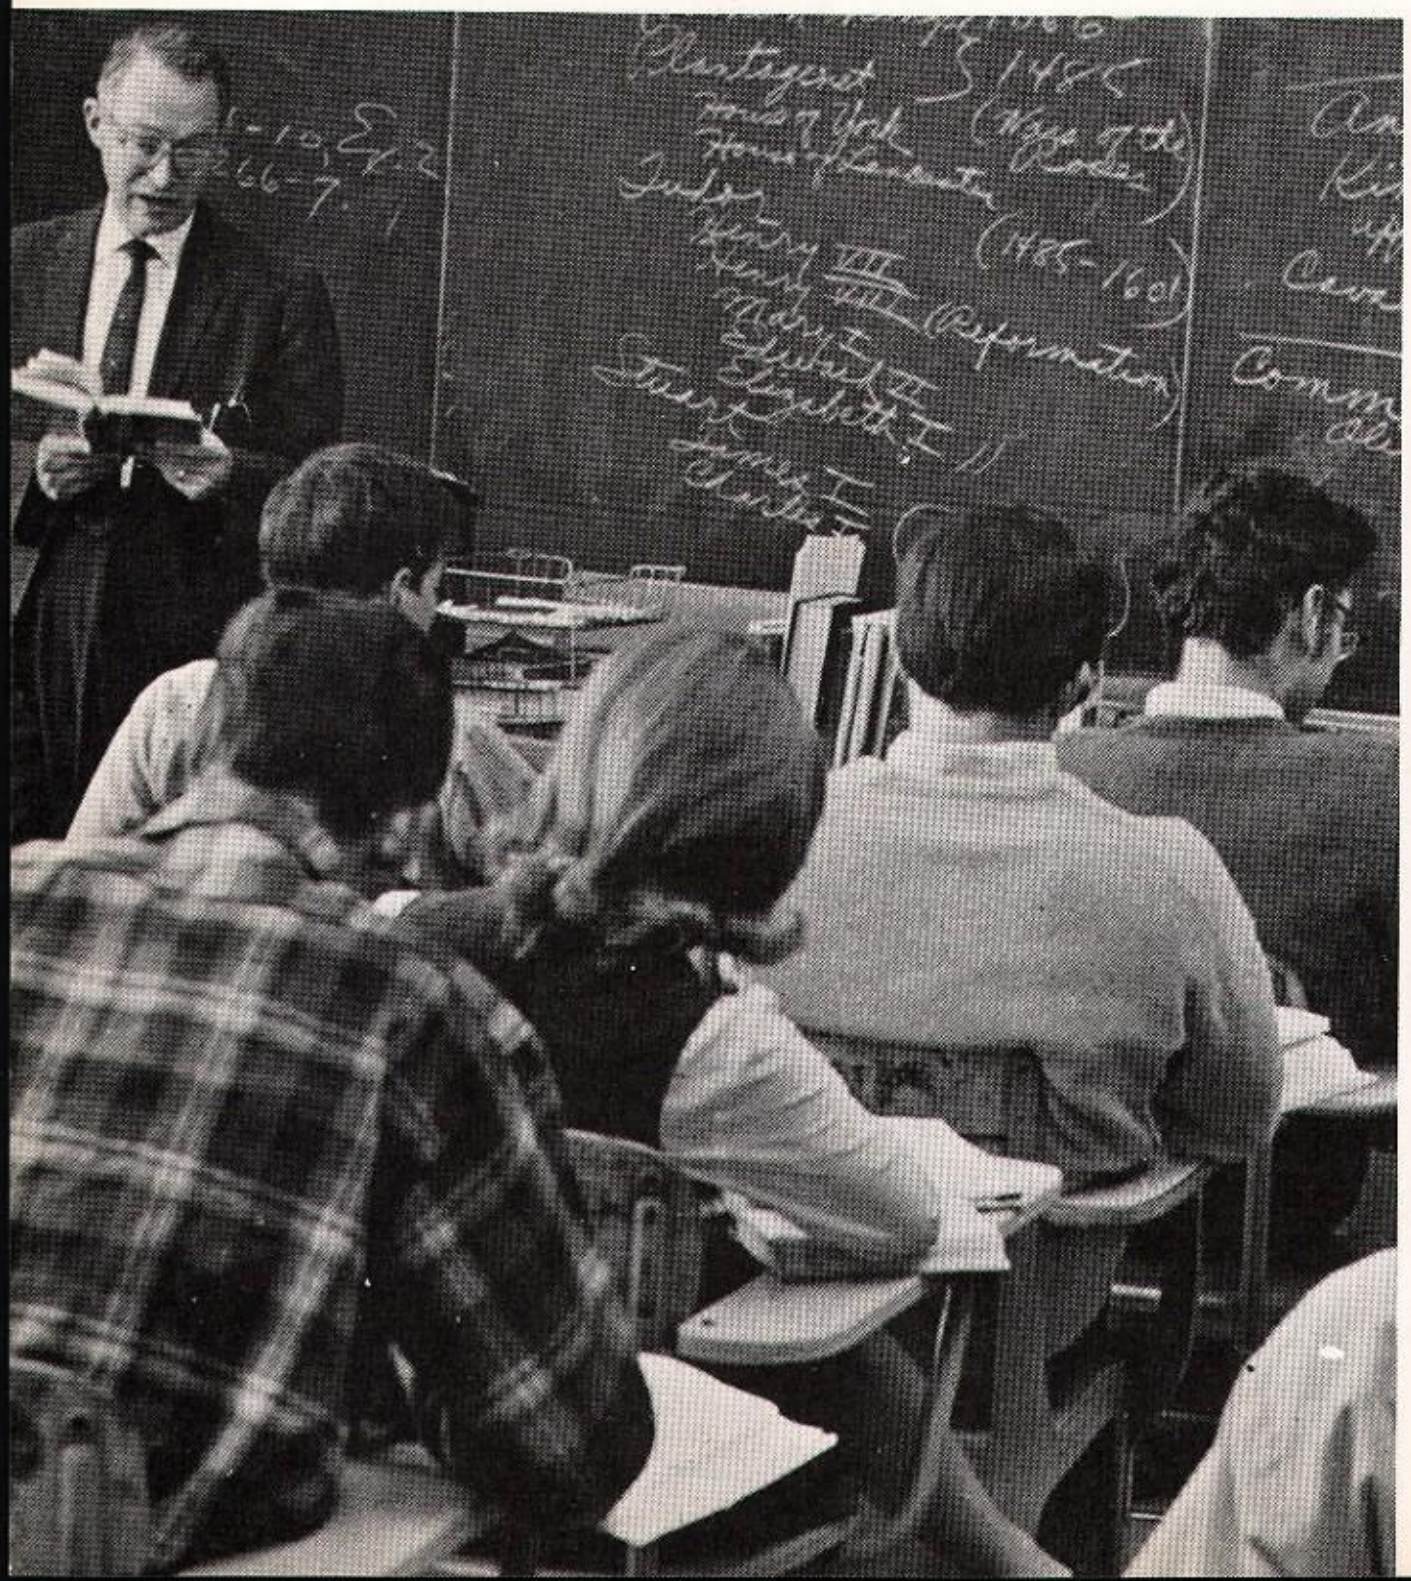
English Satisfies Variety of Interests



Students expanded their knowledge of their native language by three years of extensive English study. From tenth grade emphasis on book reports and grammar, they gradually worked their way through American literature in their junior year and delved into English Lit at the twelfth grade level.

As a result of numerous plays and skits, costumes were not an uncommon sight and the halls were haunted by Shakespeare's ghosts and witches on numerous occasions.

Junior and senior team English classes gave several hundred students a preview of college classes. With over a hundred students and three teachers in team, the lecture and individual class method had been used successfully.

Under Herald advisor Miss Chmielewski students were able to pursue their interests in journalism.

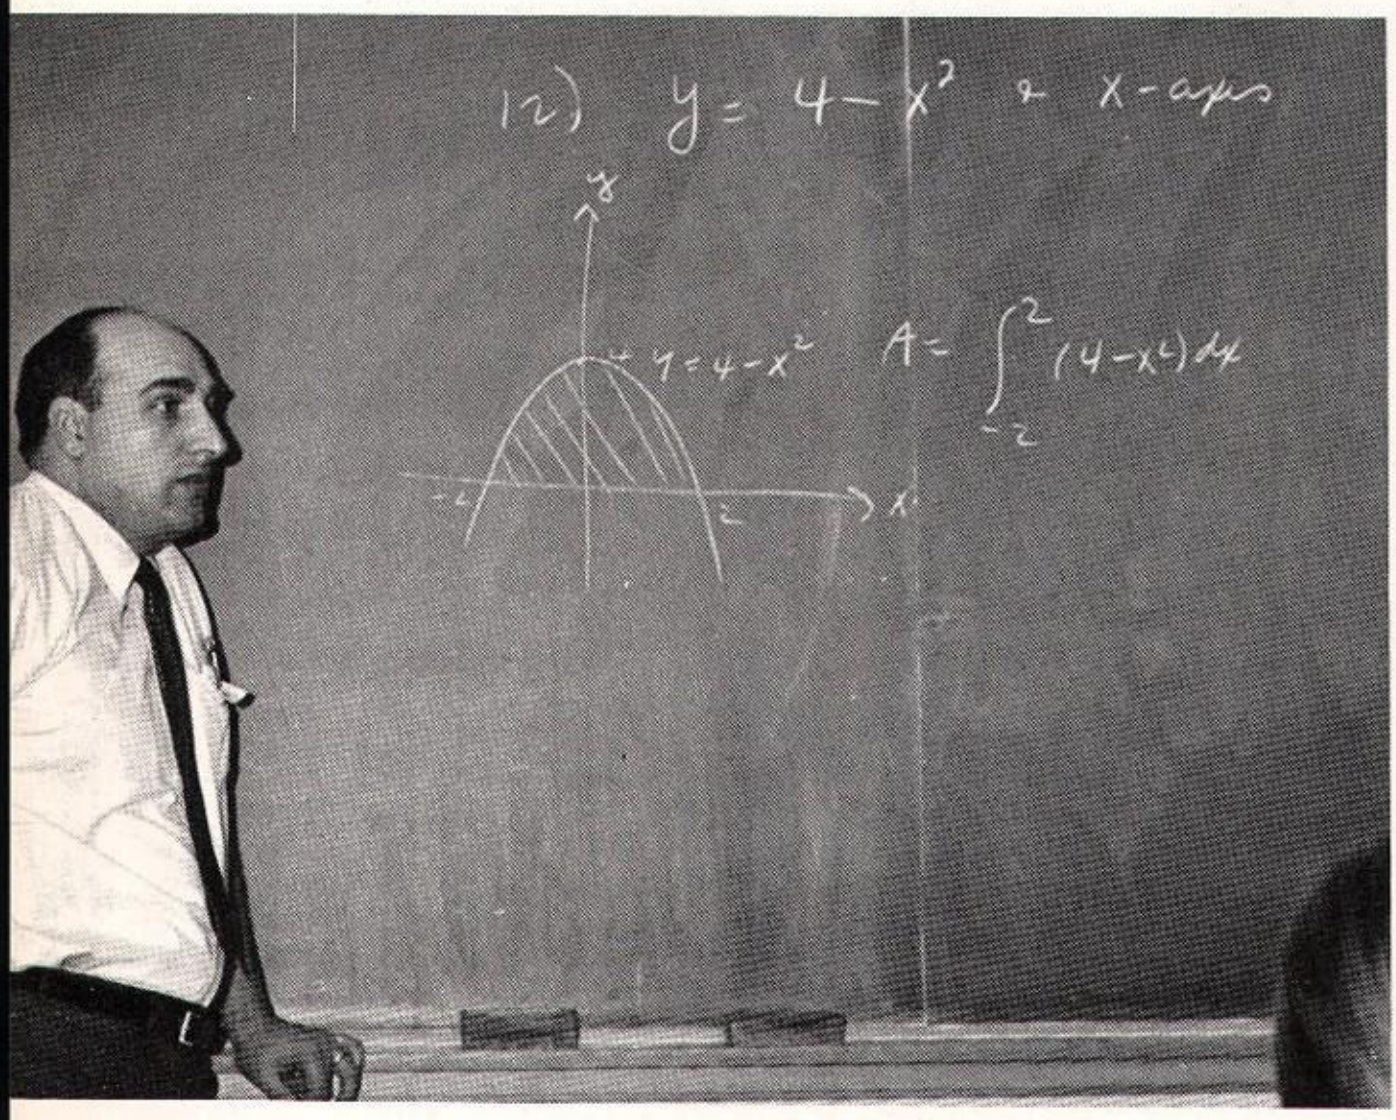
Students Are Baffled by Mathematics



To find the area under a curve requires a knowledge of calculus and integrals.

From laboratory to the shop, math is important to everyone. Realizing its importance to today's world, the Math department of Maple Heights High provided a variety of courses to give students a diverse background in the subject. The college bound were challenged by calculus, taught by Mr. Torrelli. This is the second year that the course was offered and the results were again encouraging. While the "whiz kids" fought their way through limits and derivatives, others were puzzling over practical math courses. Shop math taught the future technician basic algebra theory to the mathematics involved with the various tools with which they come into contact. All math programs had the same common goal. They were designed to teach the Maple student math which he will be able to use.

Horizons Expanded Through Social Studies

The Social Studies department is responsible for some of the most interesting and educational courses at Maple. Through these classes, students gained a knowledge of the history and cultures of people the world over, and acquired an insight into human nature itself.

World history acquainted the sophomore with the background of foreign nations, while the junior took a course in American history, and learned more of his own heritage. The American problems class gave seniors information concerning our country's government and relationships with other nations. The senior human relations course has made giant steps in encouraging better understanding between individual and groups of people through the use of films and discussion of concepts and social problems in the United States and the world today.

Students Learn Through Lab

Science, more than any other group of courses offered in '69-'70, was learned by doing rather than through the use of texts. Since science is based on the observation of and experimentation with the world, it is a unique field. Interest in science is easy to develop, because we can see science in the objects and conditions of our environment. Maple's science courses took advantage of this natural curiosity. They were all lab courses designed to give the students a better grasp of facts and concepts. Through the use of careful observation of controlled experiments, Maple students gained a better understanding of science.

The audio-lingual method of language instruction continued to prevail in the language department during the 1969-70 year. Students were barraged by a variety of tapes, filmstrips and records in an effort to encourage more students to continue in the language program. Teachers like this method better since the student learns quickly and can go on to something more advanced. The traditional technique, which usually bored the student, emphasized grammar and writing. The audio-lingual method emphasizes the speaking and practical aspects of the language, which the student can put to immediate use. This, combined with the films and tapes, generates an interest in the language and the culture of the peoples who speak the language.

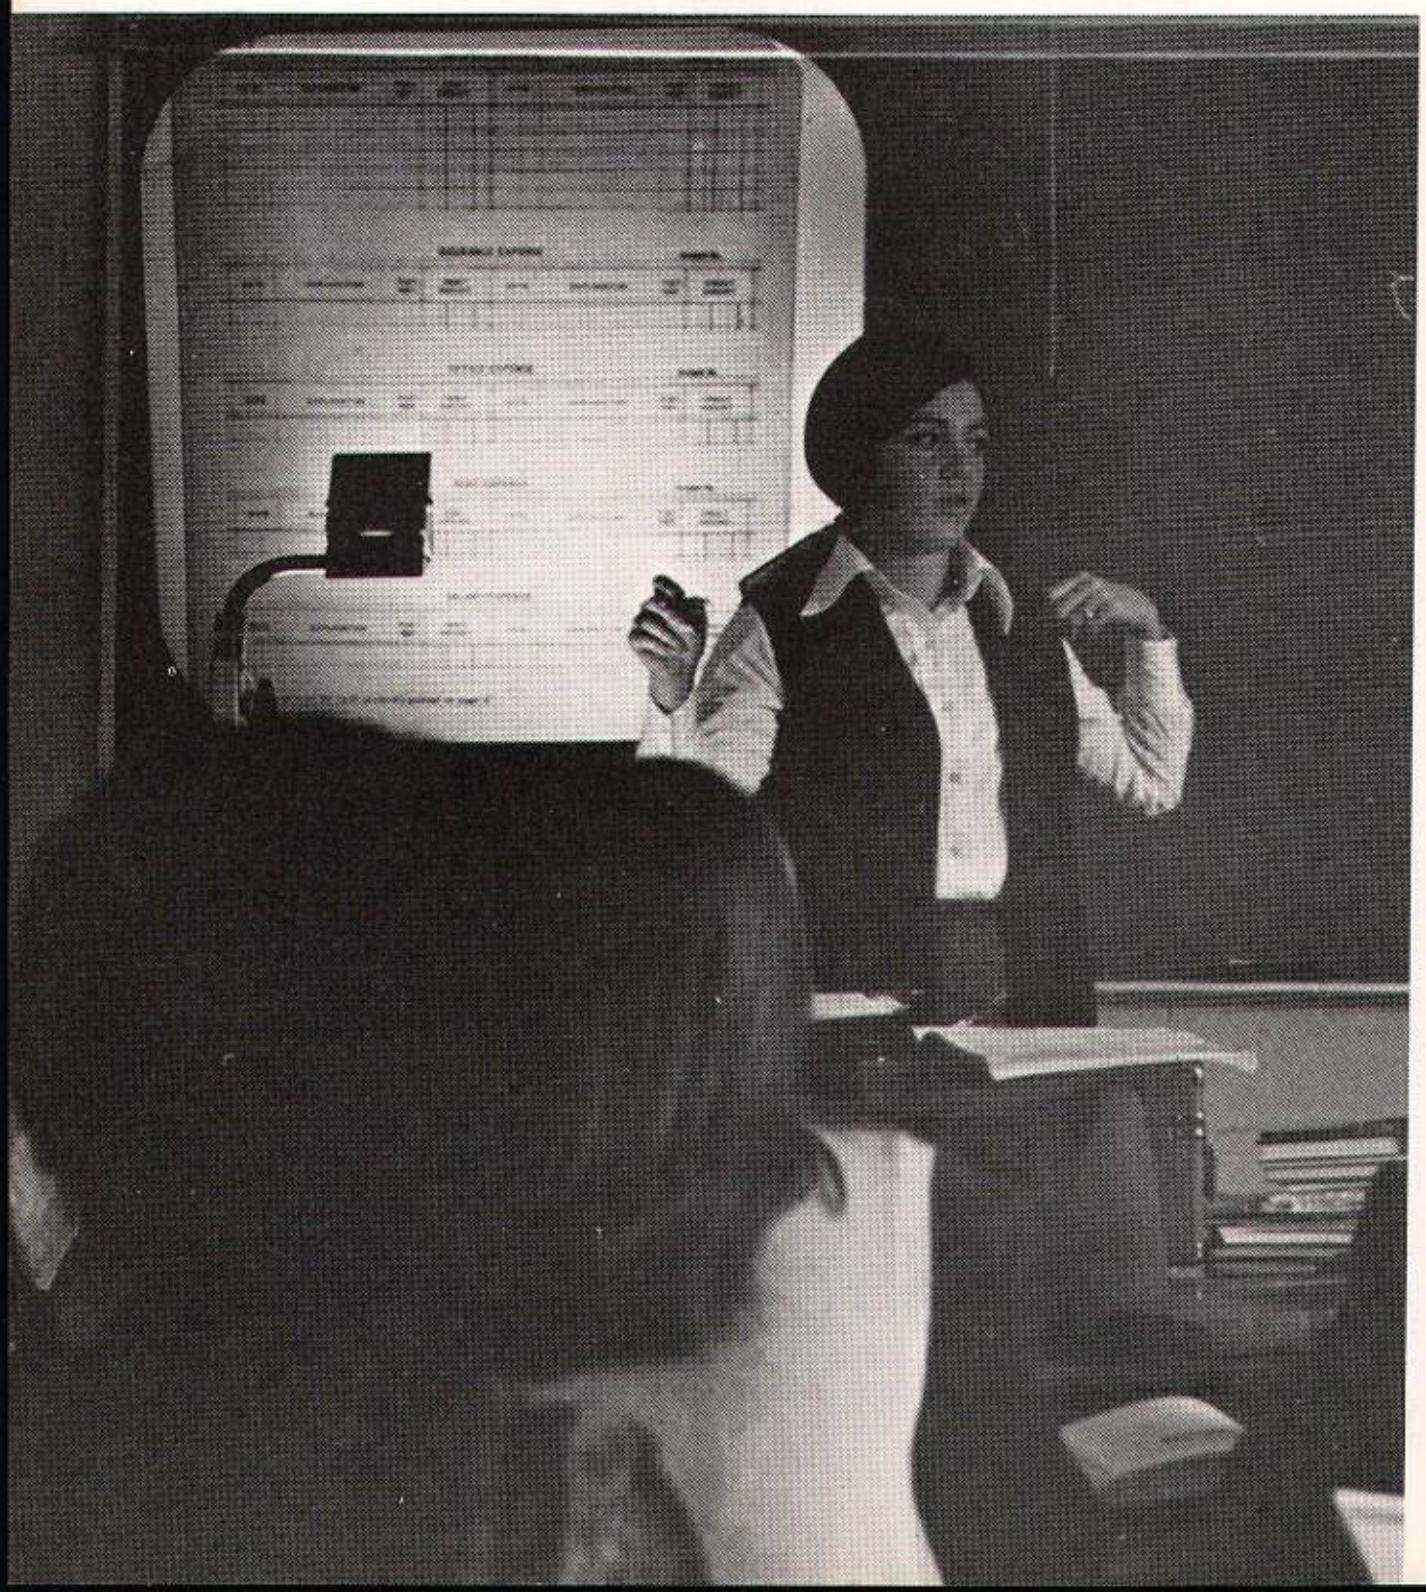
Business Classes Teach Worthwhile Skills



The business department continued to be one of the most diverse and popular departments at Maple Hts. High. Teachers put emphasis on the practical in an effort to prepare students for the business world. Typing, bookkeeping and management courses challenged their minds and gave them the best possible training. The key word to success in these business courses was practice. By practicing, students developed skills that are basic to anyone who is entering business. Teachers used overhead projectors, graphs and films to put their points across. The business department was well equipped with business machines though space was at a premium. Students and teachers alike hope that further expansion will allow more people to enter the program.

Maple Students Have Head Start with Vo-Ed

Exceptional skill is shown by a Maple sewing student as she installs a zipper.

Maple continued to prove itself a leader in the area of vocational education. Curriculum was wide and varied in order to provide the Maple graduate with a broad educational base from which to rise. Metal and wood shops helped pupils to develop mechanical skills and practice safety precautions that are important to shop procedure. Girls were afforded an opportunity to cultivate culinary abilities in home economics class. Sewing provided an outlet for creative expression with fashions. Future draftsmen also expressed themselves, but with pen and ruler. One mechanical drawing project required students to design a unique book holder. Whether it was gas station management or vending machines, Maple was out in front with vocational education.

Gym Classes Encourage Students to Keep Fit

Not only does Maple provide for the mental development of its students, but also develops its students physically. Sophomores attend gym classes during their first year as part of the compulsory physical education program. Seniors and juniors may continue taking gym, but as an elective subject. Interschool and intramural sports affords athletically inclined students the opportunity to express themselves on the playing fields. Before they can "hit the court", the students must have a knowledge of the sport. In gym class, under the direction of the physical education staff, they learn the basics of the more popular sports, basketball, football, baseball and for the boys, wrestling. The Maple policy of variety in education extended even to the physical education department.

After a brief work-out period, a boy's gym class starts up a game of "hoops."

Girls prove that they too like sports.

Maple Heights Music Department Excels

The band practices marching at Camp Burton.

Once again, the Maple Heights band and choir turned in admirable performances under the direction of Mr. Stone. During football season, he fielded another excellent marching unit, which provided a real treat to the fans at half time. With the acclaim of the marching season still in their ears, the band settled down to concert music. Directing is no small job, since the director must coordinate ninety-eight musicians toward the same goal and must coax perfection out of each. Mr. Stone is noted for not only instumental music, but also for his choral groups. The choirs opened the Christmas season with its annual holiday concert, which was highlighted by the all time favorites "O Holy Night" and "The Night Before Christmas." Hard work and determination produced excellent spring concerts.

Special Dept. Round Out Maple Curriculum

In some of the most enjoyable and creative classes, the art department serves a two-fold purpose—that of instructing and encouraging young artists while frightening the corridors with numerous colorful displays and bulletin boards. Under the expert direction of Miss Maryellyn Sepic, outstanding projects have been guided. Many of them yielded successful and original results.

With the changes in Ohio drivers laws, Maple found added problems in coping with the increased number of driver's education students. Any troubles were short-lived, however, due to the perfection of an extensive behind the wheel program. Under the excellent supervision of Mr. Norman Schiely and Mr. Michael Milkovich, Maple is able to prepare drivers for future highway situations.

Mr. William Housiaux and Mr. Frank Mraz are the directors of two other special departments. Mr. Housiaux is the director of the High School's special education department. Mr. Mraz with the aid of the projectionists club, provides Maple with a valuable program—audio-visual aids.

It has always been the ultimate goal of any serious student to become a member of this society.

Student Council this year gave the student body a voice in contemporary issues. It also played an important role in many of the events which made 69-70 a memorable year. A large success, Homecoming Week with its rallies game, dance, and beautiful queen Cathy Cuttaia and her court was a major event on the Student Council calendar. The Winter Formal, held on Valentine's Day, will be remembered as a romantic respite from the long, cold winter. The United Appeal collected more this year than ever before and enthusiasm was at a peak.

Maple Trains Future World Leaders

The International Club, Human Relations, and the Junior Council on World Affairs all had an active and successful year. The International Club, under president Lynn Shelden, started off the year with "Music Night", a folk festival. Meetings were highlighted by a variety of guest speakers. The annual A.F.S. banquet proved enjoyable as well as educational. Human Relations Club, under Darryl Smith, serviced the community with its tutoring program. Elementary students were helped with individual problems every Saturday morning. J.C.W.A. was active with its attendance of the mock U.N. downtown. They also sponsored two assemblies for the student body.

The Herald under the direction of editor Fig Jankowski continued to keep the Maple student in the know. Whether it was Jeff Artl's sports stories or Bob Bilyk's puzzles, the Herald had something for everyone. This year the paper was printed by the Maple Heights High Print Shop. The obvious improvement that this year's Herald made was the addition of many more pictures.

Creativity is the watchword of the Orphean. Editor-in-chief Sue Patton organized the annual Orphean writing contest, which featured cash prizes to the winners. The rewards were not necessarily of a monetary nature as the contest provided students the opportunity to express themselves and possibly receive extra credit for their efforts from their English teachers.

Girl's Clubs Promote Friendship and Service

PEP CLUB OFFICERS— Treasurer, L. Dobos, President, J. Lucician, Secretary, K. Cuttaia, Vice-President, B. Dorazewski.

One of the largest service clubs at Maple is the Pep Club. Some of the many projects the members undertake are decorating goalposts, providing the Mustang mascot, painting signs to promote spirit, and running the cloakroom and refreshment stand. The club also puts on exciting assemblies to promote each sport.

The Girl's Service Club works in cooperation with the Girl's Board. The members also usher at various activities, such as concerts, throughout the school year.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB OFFICERS—Pat Pivonka, Vice-President; Charmaine Horvath, Social Chairman; Kathy Kornell, Publicity Chairman; Kathy Ferraro, Treasurer; Marcia Juskiewicz, Program Chairman; Lyn Gorenc, Corresponding Secretary; Sue Holcomb, President; and Denise Dezina, Recording Secretary.

The Friendship Club had another good year as the largest club in the school. Among this year's activities were the bike hike, a girl-ask-boy tobogganing party, the Variety Show, with this year's theme, "Broadway Musicals," the spring picnic, and of course the Mother-Daughter Banquet. The all-girls club will all agree they had a useful year and also had a great time.

The Girls' Board, a representative body elected of all the girls in the school, serves as a go-between for the girls and the administration. They sponsored the "Geisha Bash", the semi-formal in the fall. The Board promotes interest in various activities and also serves to unite the girls on many issues.

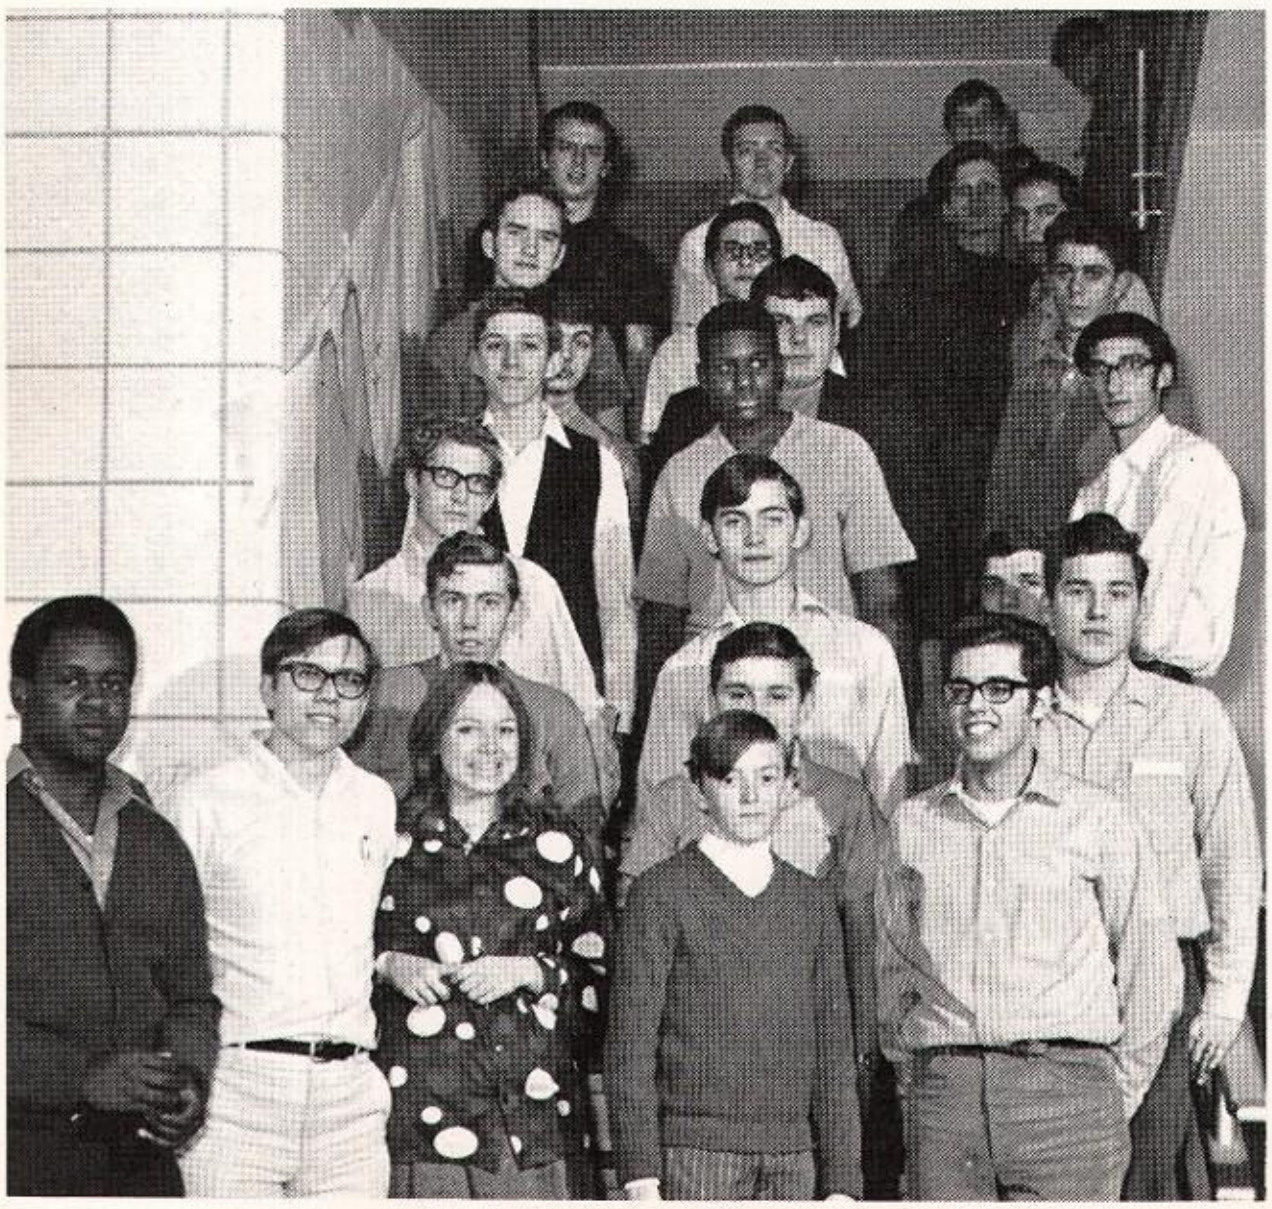
P.A. Crew, Projectionists Continue Service



The P.A. Crew has been very artistic this year in their task of providing the students of MHHS with the when and where on various club meetings, sports events, and others.

The projectionists have been very efficient in providing and caring for visual aid material. These boys give up their study halls in order to help teachers in the use of visual aid materials. Their services have been a great help to our faculty.

Pages and Clinic Assn'ts Aid Staff

Those students who assisted in the office, library, guidance office, and clinic, enabled the school to be run more smoothly and efficiently through the school year. Office and guidance pages aided school officials by delivering passes and running errands around the school. Library pages helped shelve books and generally assisted the librarians. Clinic assistants helped the nurse during their study halls. Very little could have been accomplished at Maple if it were not for these students.

G.A.A. is a club that gives the girls a chance to participate in sports. The girls stay after school to play as well as referee intramural games. Each year the club members make scrapbooks for the senior boys who participate in football, basketball, and wrestling. The G.A.A. also sponsors the King's dance. By participating in these and other activities the girls receive points which go toward earning their pins, emblems, and letters.

The Hi-Y is a service club affiliated with the YMCA open to sophomore, junior, and senior boys with at least a C average. This club sponsers a hay ride annually.

Ski Club, which was started last year, is now one of the largest clubs at Maple. It has introduced students to the fundamentals of a great winter sport, and to some of the best fun the season has to offer. Each week the members, and anyone else who wanted to go along, boarded a bus after school to go to Boston Mills resort. Here they received lessons, then went out on their own. The Ski Club advisors were Mr. Galbreath and Mr. Henck.

The Art Club was very valuable in providing beautifully executed works of art whenever need existed. The quality of their work was evident in the club's Homecoming float. Students' eyes were greeted by the many hall displays that the club designed and erected.

The Radio-electronics Club gave its members a chance to "talk shop". Field trips made up the majority of the clubs activities. The first took them to the Ohio Bell Telephones main installation. The second trip took them to the scene of the NASA research center.

The Geology Club offered plenty of exhilarating fun throughout the year. Running through the caves of Nelson's Ledges and tobogganing at Virginia Kennell started things off in the traditional club spirit.

Home Ec Club Turns on—the Gas

The Future Teachers of America is where those who are interested in someday becoming teachers can gain valuable experience. Methods learned and questions answered contributed to this knowledge. This year, F.T.A. became involved in a tutoring program in Maple Heights.

The Future Nurses of America Club promotes interest in the field of health careers. The club includes guest speakers, activities, and just plain fun. The highlight of the year's activities was the production of two Christmas skits and a party for the children at Rainbow Hospital.

With the purpose of encouraging girls to take an interest in homemaking and personal grooming, Home Economics Club hopes to be affiliated with a nationwide organization next year. They have guest speakers, including a representative from Bonne Bell who gave a makeup demonstration. Home Ec Club sponsors an annual dance, the Twirp in the spring. This semi-formal is unique in that The Woman Is Required to Pay. It was held on April 17 this year. The theme of "April Showers" helped bring out some really beautiful girls and handsome guys at this fun event.

Business Clubs Look to Future

During the past few years the business department has grown into a large and highly efficient organization. The students involve themselves with different projects and fund raising activities in and out of school. This department provides the students with the training they will need once they are out on their own. The four clubs sponsored by the business department are: I.O.E. (Intensive Office Education), C.O.E. (Cooperative Office Education), D.E. (Distributive Education), and D.C.T. (Diversified Cooperative Training).

Commencement Nears, but Memories Remain

Cheerleaders heighten spirit at games while making memories for fans, teams, and themselves.

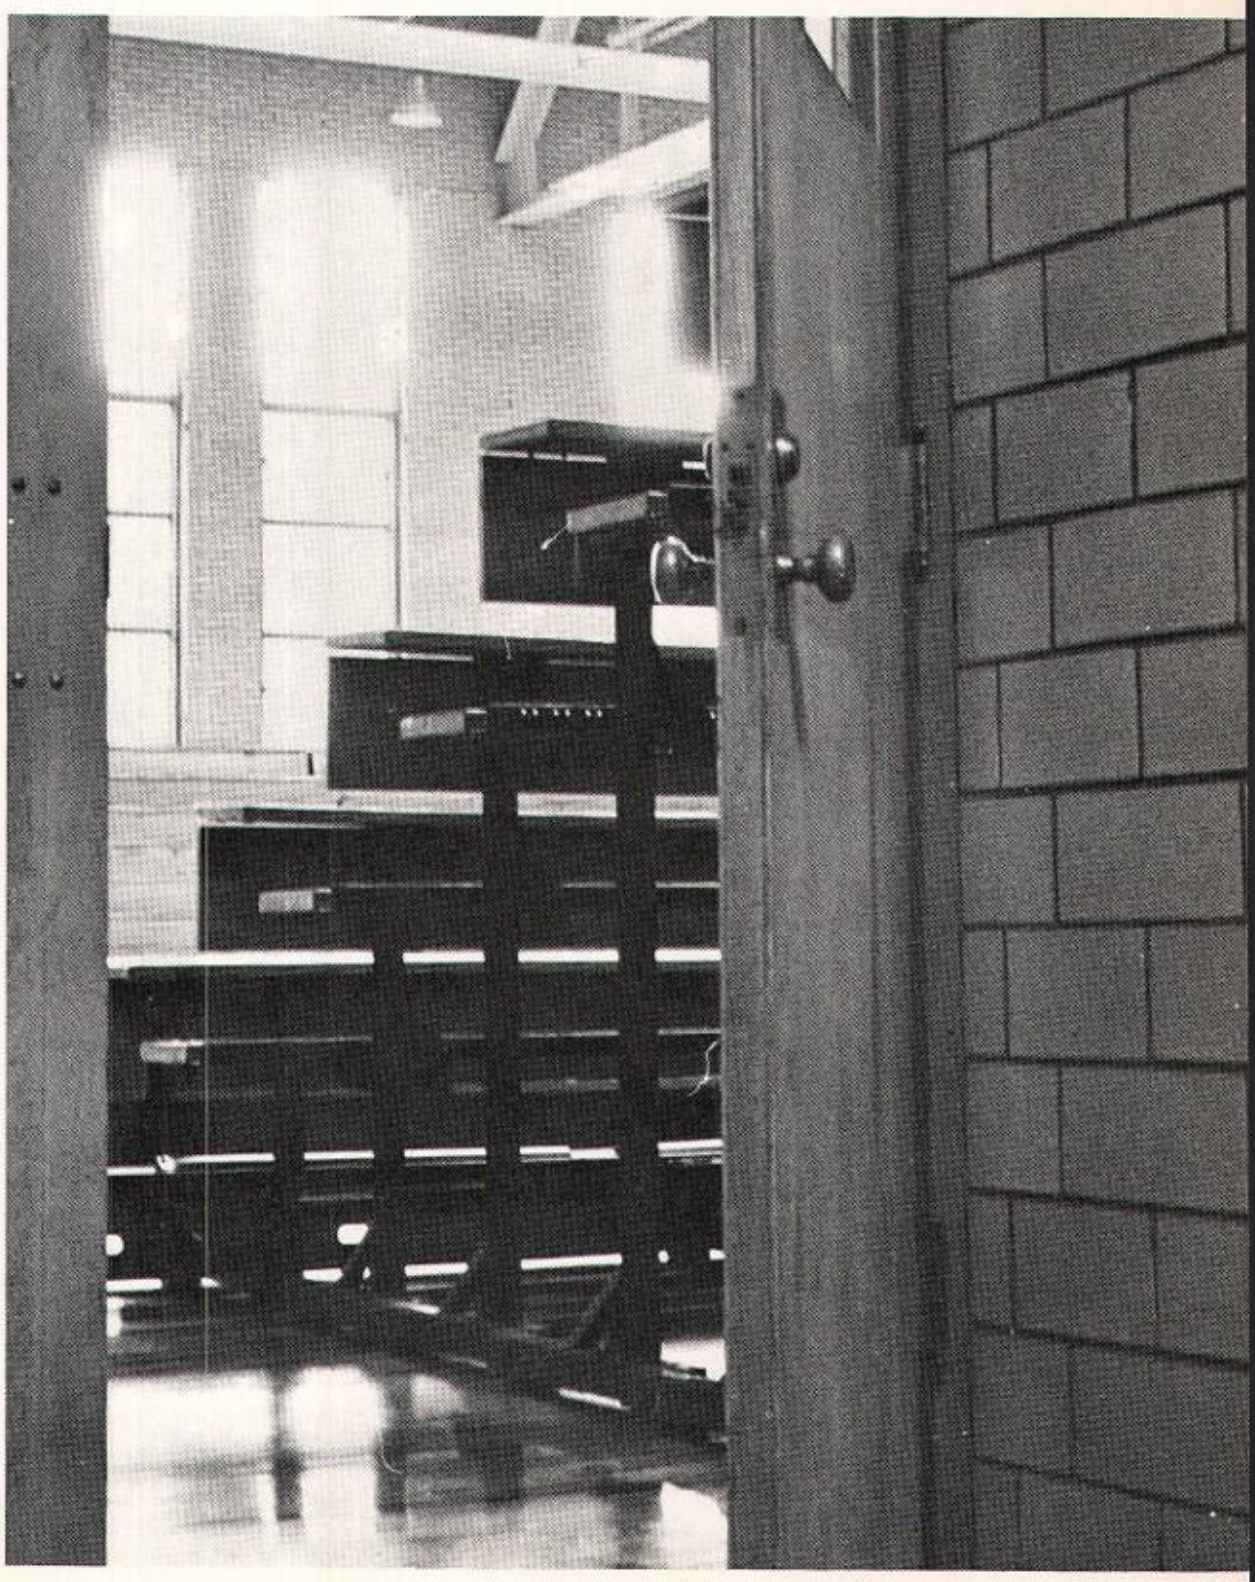
The senior Homecoming float, a giant class ring, is symbolic of their last year at Maple.

Stars of the fall play "Pillow Talk" are united for a happy ending.

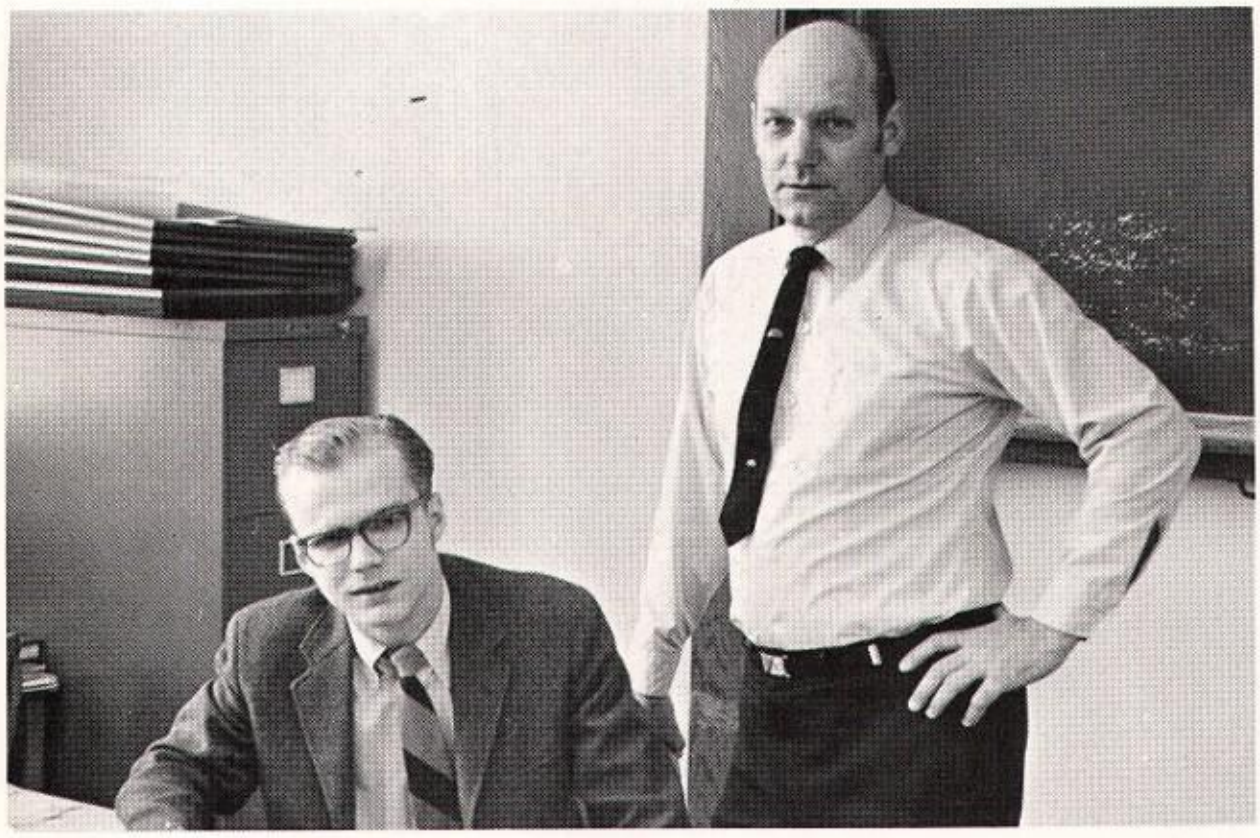
The annual fall semi provides special moments for everyone.

Exciting sports action is typical of Maple Heights on weekends.

Maple's deserted "mini-gym" brings back memories of games, dances, and good times for seniors.



Yearbook Staff Finally Finishes



Advisors Mr. Edward Cinadr and Mr. Robert Kastelic.

After many months and hard work, the 1970 Maple Leaf was completed. This years book includes many innovations that have not been seen before in any other Maple yearbook. However, none of these would be possible if it were not for the guiding hand of advisor Mr. Robert Kastelic. Mr. Edward Cinadr, business advisor, made certain that the book would be a financial success. The staff would also like to thank Mr. Jerry Usselman of Inter-Collegiate Press for his assistance. The Staff acknowledges and thanks Mr. Elmer Texler for his excellent photographic work. Best wishes to the class of 1970!

one revolution of an earth about a star.
one-seventieth of a lifetime.
a series of memories.
some that are liked to be remembered.
some to be forgotten.
insignificant to eternity,
but a milestone to the individual.
it is the year of graduation.
of the draft.
of failing out.
of the first date.
of bus rides.
of life.
and of death.
it is different to all,
but meaningful to each.
it was a nearly achieved basketball victory.
it was a nearly achieved grade.
a bitter war grinds to a halt.
a man steps on a moon.
the unknown.
new theories.
the constant cry for peace.

the senior summer lead to the sophomore fall.
the crowds moved in obedience to the clocks.
first period, second, third, ...
and again. 180 times.

it was a year like all years.
except that it was ours.

Mr. Mraz Ends 37 Years of Service to Maple

Mr. Frank J. Mraz

This June, Maple Heights High is losing a long time friend and dedicated servant in Mr. Frank J. Mraz.

Starting with his graduation in Maple's first graduating class, the Class of 1925, Mr. Mraz has been such an integral part of Maple that it is difficult to believe that he can really be leaving. Mr. Mraz has studied at Kent State University, Ohio State, Otterbein College, and Western Reserve University. His major was in Physical Science, in which he holds a Master of Arts Degree. During his thirty-seven years on the Maple Heights faculty Mr. Mraz has taught an array of science courses. His present position is that of coordinator of visual aids for the entire Maple Heights School System.

His dedication to sports stems back equally as far as his dedication to academic concerns. Forty-five years ago in his senior year at Maple, the football team of which he was a member racked up an undefeated, unscored upon season. As a faculty member, he has coached J.V. basketball, football, and baseball. Keeping score at basketball games for many years, Mr. Mraz is one of two scorekeepers in Greater Cleveland who has recorded 1000 points.

A number of organizations have recognized Mr. Mraz's long service. They include Kiwanis, the General Electric Company, and the Maple Heights High School Parent-Teachers Association. Maple sincerely thanks Mr. Frank J. Mraz for his dedication and service.
